The "wrinkled heart activity" was used during an assembly we attended and it was obvious it had quite an impact. We substituted a plain piece of paper for a red paper heart with younger students and a cut-out of a person with older students. Try using the crumpled paper bullying lesson in your classroom or during a whole-school assembly.

If the paper plane has enough thrust and the wings are properly designed, the plane will have a nice long flight. But there is more than lack of thrust and poor wing design that gets a paper plane to come back to Earth. As a paper plane moves through the air, the air pushes against the plane, slowing it down. This force is called drag. To think ...
